The ANALGESIA Institute Foundation reiterates its commitment against pain in animal health with the support of the DOMES PHARMA Group.

As the first research foundation in the field of pain, the ANALGESIA Institute is launching its call for STARTER projects "Pain & Animal Health" granting €18,000, thanks to the renewed support of the Domes Pharma Group.

The field of pain requires therapeutic advances. To meet this major challenge, the ANALGESIA Institute has applied itself to reviving innovation in this field by relying on the One Health concept: a single health for humans and animals. By bringing doctors and veterinarians together, this approach proposes a new R&D model that is inspired by the patient, whether it's human or animal, to finally offer new treatments that will benefit both humans and animals.

A long-standing player in the veterinary pharmaceutical industry in France, the Domes Pharma Group has put the quality of the relationship between humans and animals at the heart of its vision. By partnering with the ANALGESIA Institute, the Group's objective is to ensure that the knowledge, consideration and treatment of animal pain, (the existence of which has only been truly accepted since the 1980s) can also benefit from the latest research advances.

The Domes Pharma Group's commitment, to the ANALGESIA Institute, is formalized by the renewal of the "ANALGESIA - Domes Pharma Pain and Animal Health" award, which will be granted on the basis of a call for projects.

This important support allows the ANALGESIA Institute to commit even further to innovation in pain management for the benefit of the veterinary world over the long term.

This year, the ANALGESIA Institute will grant funding of 18,000 euros. This amount is intended to help an academic team wishing to develop a research theme on pain in animal health to acquire or complete preliminary results that will then allow it to apply for competitive calls for projects (national grant, Horizon Europe...).

The call for projects is open to all academic teams (French or not), who conduct research in this field.

Calendar

- Launch of the call September 26, 2022
- Deadline November 30, 2022 at noon
- Award ceremony 1st quarter 2023

How to apply?

A jury composed of experts in pain research and of experts in animal health will evaluate the files submitted by the candidates.

The award ceremony will take place during a symposium on pain to be held in the 1st quarter of 2023.

About the ANALGESIA Institute

Accredited by the French Ministry of Research since February 2016, The ANALGESIA Institute is the first research foundation dedicated to innovation against pain in France. It draws on more than 20 years of expertise in pain research. The foundation acts by building and coordinating care and research programmes, with one fundamental principle: to put the patient at the heart of each project.

New drugs, new e-health approaches and new technologies (big data, algorithms, machine learning...), a multidimensional innovation with a single objective: to enable patients, whether human or animal, to regain a pain-free life!

About Dômes Pharma

The independent family group Dômes Pharma has been present in the pharmaceutical industry since 1947 and count 400 employees at 5 sites in France, England and now Germany with a consolidated turnover of €85 million (2021). The Group develops, manufactures and markets, through its various subsidiaries, solutions for the health and well-being of pets, which are currently distributed in more than 15 countries. Organised around the holding company Dômes Pharma, our vertical integration allows us to control the entire value chain of the drug through complementary subsidiaries.

Because humans, animals and the environment are linked by nature, taking care of the animals that share our daily lives means preserving the health of all. This conviction is expressed in our motto "LINKED BY NATURE" inspired by the concept of "One Health".
